HONDO SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY, SEPT. 7

Hondo Public Schools will open Monday, September 7, for the 1942-43 school term, according to an announcement by Supt. J. G. Barry, prior to his resignation as Superintendent Thursday. Unless changed by the newly-elected Superintendent, registration of students in high school is to be held as follows:

Friday, September 4, at 9 A. M.
for Seniors or twelfth grade students.

Friday, September 4, at 1 P. M. for Juniors (11th grade).

Saturday, September 5th, at 9 A.
M. for Sophomores (10th grade).

Saturday, September 5, at 1 P. M. for Freshmen (9th grade).

New Superintendent of Hondo Schools and the members of the faculty were to be elected at a Board meeting Thursday night, August 27.
There were eleven vacancies to fill in the Ward and High Schools.

Mrs. Wm. Palm has been employed as Secretary at the High School.
Mrs. Palm's home is Nashville, Tenn., and she is a graduate of Vanderbilt University. Her husband, Lt. Wm.
Palm, is a doctor at the hospital of the AAF Navigation School in Hondo.

Mr. Barry announced the installation this week of four loud speakers at the high school gymnasium, as an addition to the public address system which is used not only in the gym but on the football field. The loud speakers are a gift of the Senior class of 1942.

NOTICE TO LIVE STOCK OWNERS

There is an outbreak of acute Charbon or Anthrax South and Southwest of Hondo. All livestock owners of Medina County are hereby cautioned to be on the alert and to report at once to the Commissioners' Court, the County Health Officer,
the County Agent or the County Judge any suspected outbreak of the disease on your premises.

ARTHUR H. ROTHE,
County Judge.

From meagre reports at hand this outbreak, it seems, was among some recent imports of range stock from back east and there is no occasion to grow panicky. It can be controlled with proper care and need not be permitted to spread among native cattle.

However, no needless chances should be taken. A close watch should be kept over all live stock and any suspicious symptoms noted and the same promptly reported to the designated authorities. Their directions as to vaccination of exposed animals, isolation of suspected ones and complete destruction of the carcasses of all dead animals should be strictly and cheerfully followed.

Such co-operation should soon stamp out the outbreak and remove the source of infection.

FIREMEN SCHEDULE STREET DANCE

The Hondo Volunteer Fire Department is completing arrangements for its big carnival and street dance, to be held Saturday night, Sept. 5,
on North Front Street in Hondo.
Advertising appears elsewhere in this paper and window cards and circulars have been widely distributed announcing the event. Tickets for the dance are now on sale and you can get yours from any one of the fire boys. They are only 50c and entitle you to dance and will be used in the awarding of entrance prizes. Joe Hartmann's Orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music. Keno will be one of the big attractions and there will be many valuable premiums. These awards are being donated by local business houses and other generous people and are being displayed in the window at the San Antonio Public Service Company office.

A carnival and dance is given semi-annually by the Firemen for the purpose of financing the Department, providing necessary equipment, and keeping fire-fighting apparatus in good condition. The May festivity was passed this year because of adverse conditions, so the sponsors of the affair are looking forward to a bigger and better than ever entertainment on September 5th.

MR. MCDOWELL TO OFFICERS' TRAINING SCHOOL

Mr. M. L. McDowell, former principal of Hondo High School but more recently an instructor at the AAF Navigation School here, received a telegram from the War Department Wednesday ordering him to report to Officers' Training School at Miami Beach, Florida. He will leave for Miami on September 2nd, where he will be commissioned a second lieutenant. Mrs. McDowell and two little daughters, Mary Jo and Carolyn, will remain in Hondo.

Mr. McDowell resigned as Principal of Hondo High School and teacher of mathematics last May 2nd. He then took nine weeks special training at Kelly Field, Texas, and since then has been an instructor at the AAF Navigation School here. Following his return from Officers' Training School he will again be assigned to the Navigation School at Hondo.

RESIGNS TO ENTER ARMY

SUPT. JAMES GORDON BARRY

JAMES GORDON BARRY RE- SIGNS AS SUPERINTENDENT OF HONDO SCHOOLS TO EN- TER OFFICERS' TRAINING SCHOOL

After fifteen years' connection with the Hondo Independent Schools
—fourteen years as Superintendent
—Mr. James Gordon Barry presented his resignation to the School Board last night and has been released from his duties. Mr. Barry received orders Wednesday from the War Department to report at Miami Beach, Florida, to attend Officers' Training School. He receives the commission of second lieutenant and following his training in Florida he is to report to the procurement center at Randolph Field where he will remain until assigned to duty in the Gulf Coast Training area. Mr. Barry is to leave Hondo on September 2 for Miami. His family will remain here.

Mr. Barry, a native of Campbell, in Hunt County, Texas, was born on December 29, 1903. In 1905 his family moved to Smithville where he lived until he left for college. He graduated from Smithville High School in 1921, entered Baylor University, Waco, where he majored in mathematics, Spanish and education, the latter department including courses in school administration, finance, and supervision. Not only was he student assistant in botany but held a teaching fellowship in Spanish during his college years. He was active in sports at Baylor, during the 1926 intramural football season being voted the best punter and place-kicker. He was a member of the ill-fated varsity basketball team that was struck by a train at Round Rock on January 22, 1927, where he received injuries that prevented him from playing on the baseball team that spring. He graduated from Baylor in 1927 and in 1936 received a Master's of Arts degree from the University of Texas, where he majored in education and Spanish.

Before receiving his degree from Baylor and prior to coming to Hondo, Mr. Barry taught at Batson and at Bastrop. He came to Hondo in August, 1927, as athletic coach, high school principal, and teacher of Spanish and mathematics. In the spring of 1928 he was elected Superintendent of Hondo Schools, a responsible position which he has held until his resignation.

Training, background and Scotch-Irish determination played their part effectively in the successful administration of the duties of his office as Superintendent. During his tenure of office the Hondo School system has made rapid progress. Additional parcels of land were acquired, new buildings were added, and the school campus beautified; the curriculum has been revised and enlarged and new courses added. The enrollment has shown a rapid increase over the fourteen years, the teaching staff has been increased and teaching requirements raised. Hondo Independent District now boasts a school personnel and physical properties, that rank high in the State. The school's fame in athletics has also spread far and wide during Mr. Barry's incumbency, his champion football and baseball teams showing up year after year. Barry Field carries his name and will remain a reminder of the man who imbued hundreds of H. H. S. graduates and ex-students with the "ole school spirit".

Civic affairs have also felt the capacity for leadership shown by Mr.
Barry. He served as President of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce several terms, as District Chairman of the Boy Scouts of America and County Chairman for the American Red Cross. He was instrumental in the organization of the Hondo Lions Club and served as its President on two different occasions. He is a past Master of the Masonic Lodge.
Recently he and Mrs. Barry purchased the home of Mrs. Berta Mc-Call in Hondo. Mrs. Barry and their two children, Maybeth and Jimmy, will reside here until Mr. Barry is assigned.

A successor to Supt. Barry was to have been named last night but was not revealed at time of going to press. Election of teachers for 1942-43 was also held and will be announced next week.

NEWS NOTES

From The
Navigation School

GRADUATION FLIGHTS TAKE OFF THIS WEEK

AAF NAVIGATION SCHOOL
Hondo, Texas, Aug. 25.—Cross country graduation flights—the final practical examinations for the AAF Navigation School's second graduating class—begin Friday, August 28, and end Sunday with the cadet's return to Hondo.

There will be three separate cross country flights, one touching at Jacksonville, Miss., and Knoxville Tenn., another nearing St. Louis and Indianapolis, and the third toward Denver and Salt Lake City.

The flights are the culmination of the 15 weeks of training in aerial navigation. Successfully completing his graduation flight, the cadet is ready to receive his silver navigator's wings.

Wings, and commissions as second lieutenants in the Army Air Forces, will be awarded graduating cadets Saturday, September 5, in ceremonies at the AAF Navigation School. The navigation officers will then be assigned to active duty, ready and able to direct the course of the U. S. Bombers over uncharted lands to "carry the attack to the enemy."

WAR BOND SUBSCRIPTIONS CONTINUE AT GOOD PACE

More than $74,000 each year from the pay of enlisted men at the AAF Navigation School here will be used to purchase U. S. War Bonds for victory.

The figure was revealed this week by Captain Thurman F. Staudt, officer in charge of bond sales, as the bond buying campaign gained impetus with new purchases reported daily.

Another school squadron, the 846th, this week reported 100 percent participation in the Navigation School's all-out drive for total bond buying. Every man in the 846th, and in the 847th, as well, has authorized monthly deductions from his pay to be applied toward the purchase of war bonds. Meanwhile, the campaign for 100 percent participation in the war bond buying drive continued, as bond workers contacted every enlisted man.

Assisting Captain Staudt in the bond sales are Sgt. Morris G. Rogers and Corp. L. F. Waxson of the 845th squadron, and Corp. Joseph E. Keating of the 847th.

the U. S. Army.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You don't need a periscope to look around the corner and see what will be taking place one year after we get through with Germany and Japan.

I don't wear both a belt and suspenders. I am, therefore, not a first degree pessimist. Also I am not a 200 per cent optimist, like the bald headed gent who bought a bottle of hair tonic—and a brush and comb. But my eyesight is fair. I see good times for the U. S. A. in the offing if we show some gumption, and I see a mess if we keep on with the "Potomac-type" socialism we've been toying with. Daniel Boone got along in pretty good shape. So did Davy Crockett, and George Washington and Thomas Jefferson. There was no Socialism then—no "up-lifters" in "E" cars (E for Exempt) cluttering the highways —and byways. No Govt. in private business. The Govt. run the army and navy then—it didn't camp on your door-step.

We gotta get back to the original American system—and pronto. A good time to start culling out is just around the corner. November looms big.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Patteson, veteran San Antonio commercial photographer. He was "sworn in" by Lt. Clark M. Cunningham, personnel adjutant and recruiting officer.

Patteson will be a member of the 369th Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron. Since he is an excellent photographer, with seven years of experience in photography, he will be assigned to duty in the photographic office.

Before joining the Army Air Corps, he was a photographer in the field airplane protection branch at the San Antonio Air Depot, Duncan Field.

RANCH PARTY GIVEN BY LIONS CLUB

A ranch party—entertainment in the traditional Texas style—with Col. Linus D. Frederick, commanding officer of the AAF Navigation school, and his official staff as guests, was given by the Hondo Lions Club last Wednesday evening.

The party, with chicken barbecue as the main course, was at the DePuy ranch home of Bob DePuy, near Hondo. DePuy is tail twister for the Hondo Lions Club. Present at the party were Colonel Frederick, his staff, and officials of the Hondo service club.

FIRST WEDDING AT SCHOOL

The first wedding ceremony in the Protestant chapel at the AAF Navigation School united in marriage
Pfc. Bernard D. Parker, Emporia,
Va., and Miss Mary Lucille Cooke, Pleasant Hill, N. C. The ceremony was performed last Thursday evening, August 20, with Post Chaplain George W. Schardt officiating.

Pfc. Barker, who is assigned to military police duties, is a member of the 841st School Squadron. The bride returned to her home this week, but the couple plan to make their home in Hondo soon.

Chaplain Schardt will officiate at the chapel's second marriage ceremony Sunday, August 30, at 11:45
a. m. Miss Harriette Jeanette Dunn, Los Angeles, will be married to Navigation Cadet Clifford Chaff Cottam, Culver City, California.

NEW INSIGNIA ADOPTED BY 837th SCHOOL SQUADRON

A design picturing the aerial navigation theme—a world globe with wings, centered by a navigator's di-viders—was adopted this week as the insignia for the 837th School Squadron at the AAF Navigation School.

The winning insignia design, selected by ballot from 26 submitted designs, was drawn by Sgt. Robert R. Adams, 21, Denver, Colorado.

The insignia will be placed on a standard to be displayed outside the squadron orderly room. It will also be engraved on the stationary used by men in the squadron and will be painted on the squadron's planes later.

THE FARMER'S ANXIETY

When the anxious farmer casts his eye
Up to the starless, glowering sky:
He knows that when the lightning
winks

The thirsty fields can have their drinks.
Soon a million threads of singing
rain,
Tic-tac and rattle on window pane;
Like fingers playing in measured rhyme,
Like a maestro's baton beating time.
The farmer, shoulder deep in joy,
Skips and capers around like a boy.

How this blessed water of delight Comes teeming down in glorious might:
Quenching thirst of fields and hill;
Pouring away till they have their fill—

The voice of thunder comes screaming
down:
I come to slake your thirst or you drown?
Then comes another huge burst of
rain
And the farmer's heart pulsates
again.
In giving his thanks to the Tempest
King
He whistles, because he cannot sing.

The World's Finest Prehistoric Tobacco Pipe

—Photo Rhodenbaugh.

By COL. FAIN W. KING,
Research Director Archaeology
of Kentucky

The finest known work of the Mound Builder is a smooth, red granite pipe in the King Collection, Wickliffe, Kentucky, at the Ancient Buried City. This human-made figure, more than fourteen inches high and ten inches across, was taken from a mound containing many rare and unusual pieces such as royal maces, copper ornaments, beads and rock crystal ceremonial objects.

The workmanship of the pipe indicates mastery, ability and knowledge of working stone. The portrayal of a cape across the back with copper spear points attached is an original idea in dress. The depicted strands of copper beads about the neck indicates a love of ornaments and the two monkey-like faces used as clasps at each side of the throat shows a knowledge of these animals. Countless man hours were required to hand polish this very hard granite, or perhaps a more accurate statement, woman hours, as it is believed the women did most of this type of work. Taken as a whole this aboriginal work of art indicates a strong Central American influence.

The tying of the hair at the back of the head reminds one of the famed mother-in-law's knot. The tamoshanter hat at its rakish angle displays a vain or to-be-in-style attitude rather than an utilitarian article.

Many large museums throughout the United States have endeavored to secure this famous pipe at fabulous figures. This prehistoric tobacco pipe, without an equal, and more than four hundred thousand other artifacts are a part of the collection at the King Mounds, a permanent institution of archaeology for people to see and study the story of the first people that lived in the Mississippi Valley.

For almost ten years, with the help of my wife, Mrs. Blanche Busey King, an ethnologist, and a trained crew of archaeologists, anthropologists, working with orange wood sticks and camel hair brushes, have been excavating spoonfuls of dirt, uncovering the social, religious and romantic story of the Mound Builder of the forty mounds located at Wickliffe, Kentucky, on a high, natural fortified bluff at the meeting of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Tombs, temples, house sites and the people who at one time controlled the flint industry, religion and commerce of the whole district are gradually being revealed by skilled workers and trained hands for education and posterity.

Cotton acreage in Texas dropped from a peak level of 18,393,000 acres in 1926 to 13,592,000 in 1932 and to a record low of 7,717,000 in 1941. Over the same period, production as measured in 500-pound bales fell from a 1926 production of 5,630,831 bales to 4,501,800 bales in 1932. The record low for the 1926 to '41 period was 2,407,979 bales in 1934, the second year of the new deal. A comeback seemed to be presaged by a yield of 5,163,895 bales in 1937.

but the next four years show a steady decline to 2,663,004 bales in 1941. In view of this record, it is your guess as to which has been most disastrous to cotton growing in Texas—boll-weevils, depression or New Deal meddling.

Black spot on rose bushes is just what the name signifies. Small black spots form and grow larger, and leaves turn yellow and fall off. If a great many leaves are lost, says

Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening of the A. and M. College Extension Service, the branches one by one begin dying at the top and continue dying down into the roots. The lesson in this is that gardeners who wish to preserve the health of their roses should keep leaves on them. Leaves are the medium for supplying food for growth and blooms. Black spot can be controlled by dusting finely ground sulphur on the leaves once a week until new healthy leaves have formed.

The dust should be applied when the wind is not blowing. This pest attacks roses during the cool days of fall and spring. Shade and moisture encourage its spread. Hot dry weather tends to kill it. Some varieties of roses are more susceptible than others. When leaves are destroyed the plant becomes weak and unattractive.

FLOWER VENDOR

You lived in a mansion a'top o' the hill,
I lived in a cot by the Sea,
You came a'courtin' against your pa's will,
We both vowed we'd wed secretly.

Your kin had learnin', my kin had naught;
Mine were all fishermen bold;
Your ma, for you wanted frail Crysbell Watt
Whose "blue-blood" ranked high for your gold.

I remember the dawn they sailed you away—
You promised you'd come fetch me soon;
I waited—and waited—ne'er did you return—
Your absence—caused my life's doom.

Where once stood your fine house are skyscrapers tall,
Our Cove now harbors the Fleet;
The rock cliff that beat back the Ocean's mad squall
Is concrete Forty-Second Street.

Today on Park Avenue you passed me by
And my "nosegays" were only a shilling;
Your cane touched my basket, Crysbell seemed awry,
I—Ingrid—sat on the stoop, thrilling!

Decades have faded since I felt your embrace,
You're wealthy—I'm an old flower vendor,
Sweet memories still linger of your romantic grace
That a fisherman's lass will e'er remember . . .

Sheep shipments from Texas during 1941 were 2,281,000 head compared with 2,866,000 head during 1940. This was a decrease in sheep shipments of 20 per cent from a year earlier. Shipments during 1940 however were second largest on record, being exceeded only in 1938 when 3,066,000 head were shipped. The expansion of sheep numbers which began in 1918 continued in 1941 and on January 1, 1942, the number of all sheep in Texas was estimated at 10,349,000 head compared with 9,831,000 a year earlier and 8,163,000 head the 10 year (1931-40) average. The 1941 lamb crop was larger than average, but death losses among sheep and lambs were unusually high. With high sheep and wool prices, and anticipating continued favorable prices, farmers and ranchers were reluctant to sell.

A palatability test on safflower meal is being conducted at the Spur substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The three steers used in the test gained 2.14 pounds per head daily during the second 28-day period.

Although the rise in farm prices during the past year is contributing substantially to the rise in farm cash income, the present level of farm prices is still far below that reached in World War I, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Farm prices had reached a two-year low in August, 1939, just before the outbreak of war, so the increase since then should not be viewed with alarm. Further substantial increases in farm prices above the present level would, however, be justifiable basis for concern. Writing a monthly report on farm cash income for the state during May, Dr. Buechel points out that the Texas wheat harvest now under way is expected to be well above last year's and that higher prices now prevailing will mean a substantial increase in cash income from that source. Cotton and cottonseed prices during the marketing season are also expected to be considerably above a year ago. Dr. Buechel says, and a crop of the same size as last year will result in substantial income gains from these products. Growing income from milk and milk products, fruits and vegetables, poultry and eggs are also forecast.

A LAST WARNING

Mr. Fred C. Goeth, Director of the San Antonio Defense Rental Area, in a letter to Mrs. J. G. Barry, Medina County rental director, asked that landlords and property owners be made aware of the fact that registration on rooming houses and hotels will close on August 31. The people are urged not to wait until the last minute to register, but to do so at once. "It will be a violation of the law and subject them to penalties if they do not register their property," Mr. Goeth said.

The County rental office is in the courthouse at Hondo and Mrs. Barry is there every day from Monday through Friday to assist property owners with their rental applications.

Factors constituting a "major capital improvement", one ground or which landlords may petition for increases in rents, are clarified further in a statement issued today by OPA rent control officials.

Maximum rent regulations when issued for a defense-rental area cut rents back to what they were on the maximum rent date with certain exceptions, one of which is when a landlord has made a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a "major capital improvement" since the maximum rent date. When the improvement has been made before the regulation goes into effect in an area, the maximum rent is the first rent after the improvement, subject to review by the area rent director.

When the improvement is made after the regulation goes into effect the landlord is not entitled to an automatic increase in the rent; however he may petition the area rent director for an upward adjustment of the maximum rent.

The statement issued today places a "major capital improvement" in one of three categories—(1) a structural addition; (2) a structural betterment; (3) a complete rehabilitation, and defines and illustrates all three.

SCRAP DRIVE CONTRIBUTES TO WAR EFFORT

On the urgent request of the Government to contribute scrap metal and rubber to the war effort, a special campaign was started in Medina County on August 14, under the sponsorship of the Medina County
USDA War Board and Medina County Salvage Committee. The campaign is to reach its climax on Saturday, August 29, when people of Medina County are urged to bring in their scrap metal and rubber.
The scrap can be carried to the following places or some other point where it can be moved into manufacturing centers in making war implements. The following men have been authorized to buy the scrap and will give a fair price: Fred Bartholme at Hondo; A. J. Finger at D'Hanis, and S. H. Wilkinson, Devine.

Since the scrap drive was instigated, the Salvage Board has deemed it important to continue the campaign, and with the cooperation of the quartermaster at the AAF Navigation School, army trucks will pick up the material. The donors however, must notify Robert D.
Burden at the AAA office in Hondo, phone 2, who in turn will notify the salvage officer at the School. All scrap metal and rubber is to be salvaged for the War Production Board.
Scrap also includes worn out farm machinery, tractors, etc.

State Highway Department has also arranged to have highway department trucks pick up any scrap metal deposited on the right-of-way lines along state highways.

You are urgently requested to "Throw Your Scrap Into The Fight!"

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

The raw material shortage, as evidenced by factory shut-downs and emptying retail shelves, demands immediate attention, even as inflation, wage stabilization and price control. Outcome of the material scramble will decide whether war manufacturers will deliver quotas on schedule and whether civilian goods makers can stay in business. Channeling of available supplies to the right place at the right time calls for bold action. WPB will deal with maladjustments due to Lend-Lease unscheduled operations.

—WSS—
The President's anti-inflation blueprint, being drawn up by Justice Rosenman, is eagerly awaited. War Labor Board's basic "Little Steel" formula is expected to win out over OPA Henderson's wage-czar proposal. WLB wants single agency to review all wage increases, in dispute or not. Window-dressing is being set up to mollify OPA.

—WSS—
Sponsors of a price control subsidy bill are seeking administrator support before submitting this newly-drafted measure to Congress. Under this bill, business men would have prominent roles in an administrative body. Subsidies that over-depress prices or dislocate distributive channels would be prohibited. A special commercial court of review and the bill would be limited to the "duration." Secretary of Commerce Jones, who has been talking with Senator Taft and other OPA subsidy foes, proposes a 1 1/2 billion dollar appropriation bill permitting RFC to subsidize producers squeezed by price ceilings with cost-of-living commodities as test items. Congress is inclined to pass the bill to Jones.

—WSS—
WPB now master of raw materials has taken steps to correct Lend-Lease disruptions. LL will now line up with Army, Navy for metal rations. Army-Navy-WPB sore spot resulting from LL's preferred position is healed. Lend-Lease is on a priority basis consistent with the overall rule-of-thumb policy of arms to fighters.

—WSS—
The Treasury is advocating a new policy to avoid a double burden on corporations. A tax credit on profits recaptures by the government through contract renegotiation, and on which excess profits have been paid, would be allowed. This may be included in the new tax bill.

Black markets are due for trouble. Investigations in all critical materials are imminent. OPA, WPB, FBI, Army, Navy and the Maritime Commission are on the war path. The President has issued pointed orders. Appropriate legislation to follow will have long, sharp teeth.

—WSS—
Log books may soon be a part of the automobile driver's equipment. Officials are planning federal licenses for all cars, drivers of which must record mileage and keep within quotas, tuned to occupational needs. Under ODT administration, violators could lose licenses and automobiles.

—WSS—
While considered as an autumn "must," ODT officials are reluctant to barge into the new travel priority plan. Under this measure all seats, including coaches, would be reserved. Passenger engines may soon be used for freight.

—WSS—
Even under White House blessing, any AFL-CIO "peace exchange" combine is not likely to ripen soon. While both groups find they can cooperate as separate units and are working out a formula to eliminate jurisdictional disputes—each eyes the dairy progress of Lewis with considerable fear.

FOR RELEASE AUGUST 25

A Week of the War:

War Production Chairman Nelson announced the War Production Board is rerating every project in the war program to secure the "maximum impact on the enemy now." Combat planes, particularly bombers, are at the top of this new list. Mr. Nelson said.

Chairman Nelson reported the U. S. is now producing munitions three and a half times the rate in November, 1941, the month before Pearl Harbor. July production, he said, was 16 percent above June production, but 7 percent short of production forecasts made at the beginning of July. "The big job ahead of us right now is to bring our program into balance and make sure that we use our materials and facilities as wisely as possible," he said. "This means that we must redouble our efforts, particularly on the low spots, if we are to make our goals by the year's end."

Aircraft production increased 11 percent in July over June output, Mr. Nelson said. Although combat plane production rose 6 percent, it was not up to expectations. He also reported: overall ordnance production in July increased 26 percent over June output, and was very close to schedules; production of medium tanks was 35 percent greater than in the previous month and considerably ahead of schedule; light tanks up 15 percent also were ahead of schedule; anti-aircraft guns exceeded schedules by "a wide margin;" merchant ships were up 6 percent and "nearly on schedule for the month;" deliveries of major combat vessels were ahead of those in June and "considerably ahead of forecasts."

The War Front:

General MacArthur's headquarters in Australia reported allied fighter pilots using new battle tactics shot down at least 13 Japanese planes, and probably 15 or more, out of an enemy fleet of 47 which attacked Darwin. No allied planes were lost. The Navy reported the Marines' hold on at least three of the Solomon Islands is now well established. When 700 Japanese counter-attacked on one of the islands 670 were killed and the other 30 taken prisoners, Pacific Fleet Commander Nimitz reported. The Marine losses were 28 killed and 72 wounded. Admiral Nimitz also announced a force of Marines made a successful landing on Makin Island, killed 80 Japanese, wrecked various installations, and then withdrew.

The Army Headquarters, European Theater, announced arrival in Britain of the largest U. S. convoy of the war, with more men and material for the American air forces which had already begun precision bombing by daylight of Nazi-occupied Europe. U. S. flying fortresses bombed the Nazi transportation system at Amiens and Abbeville. In a battle over the North Sea, four flying fortresses shot down three German fighters and damaged nine others, while all the U. S. planes returned safely. A U. S. Ranger Battalion joined with Canadian and British forces in a nine-hour raid on Dieppe, France. The Navy reported U. S. submarines operating in the Aleutians and in the Far East sank a cruiser or destroyer and damaged a destroyer, sank two cargo ships and a transport, and damaged another cargo ship. The torpedoing of seven more United Nations merchantmen by enemy submarines was announced.

Foreign Relations:

President Roosevelt and Secretary of State, Hull, sent messages of solidarity to Brazil as that country became the first South American nation to declare war on Germany and Italy. The President said Wendell L. Wilkie will tour Europe and the Near East as his special representative in order to correct the impression in those places that U. S. production is not all it should be. Mr. Wilkie will carry messages from the President to foreign leaders, including Premier Stalin. The President issued a statement that the perpetrators of "barbaric" acts in occupied countries "will have to stand in the courts of law" in the same countries in which barbarism now rages, and answer in those courts for their crimes.

Army and Navy:

The War Department said it will inaugurate this fall a voluntary pre-induction training program utilizing existing facilities of schools and colleges to meet present and future needs for properly trained personnel in the Armed Forces. Out of every 100 men inducted into the Army, about 63 are assigned to duties requiring specialized training, the Department said. The Army said it is organizing and training Port Battalion (composed mostly of former stevedores) for duty overseas to insure prompt handling of U. S. military component for forces stationed throughout the world. The Department said checks in payment of allowances to dependents of enlisted men of the Army, covering the first applications to be approved, will go out shortly after September 1.

The Navy announced recruiting of enlisted personnel of the Women's Naval Reserve will begin September 11, and training will start October 9 at the University of Wisconsin, Indiana University and Oklahoma A. and M. College.

Selective Service:

Selective Service Director Hershey said draft boards will begin calling men with dependents before Christmas. He said single men with "secondary" dependents, such as aged or crippled relatives, will be called first; married men whose wives work next; then men with dependent wives; and finally men who have wives and children. He said the reservoir of 1-A men throughout the country is "practically exhausted." Selective Service Headquarters said Class 1-B (men fit for limited military service only) will be eliminated and beginning September 1, all registrants who are not totally disqualified will be re-classified in 1-A, while those not suited for any military service will be placed in 4-F. In the case of men reclassified in 1-A, the Army will determine after induction whether they will be assigned to full or limited service.

Stabilization of Farm Prices:

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said he would approve a plan of livestock ceiling prices which "must not permit abnormal profits to anyone in the industry at the expense of the producers or consumers." Mr. Wickard also said he now favors repeal of the provision of the price control act "that prohibits ceilings on processed farm products if the ceiling price reflects a farm price of less than 110 percent of parity." He said farm prices "have reached parity on an average." The WPB Food Requirements Committee asked the armed forces, the Lend-Lease Administration, and the War Production Board to collaborate in working out a program for allocation of all Government meat purchases as equitably as possible among federally inspected packers. The Agricultural Marketing Administration bought $137,900,000 worth of food stuffs during July for United Nations and other requirements, including 80,000 pounds of dehydrated beef.

Rationing:

Tire quotas will have to follow a downward trend the rest of this year to keep within the amount of rubber earmarked by the WPB for the purpose, the Office of Price Administration said. The Office asked local rationing boards for the "strictest possible interpretation" of a recent amendment to tire rationing regulations restricting truck eligibility to vehicles essential to the war effort or public health and safety.

Oil and Gasoline:

WPB Chairman Nelson appointed Under Secretary of War Patterson Petroleum Coordinator Ickes as a committee to determine whether fuel oil should be rationed in the East Coast area this winter. Because of the shortage of fuel oil in the area Mr. Ickes prohibited the hauling of automotive gasoline by rail in 20 middle western states in order to divert enough tank cars to carry 100,000 barrels of fuel oil daily to the rationed area. If the withdrawal of these 5,000 to 7,000 tank cars creates a shortage, rationing should be extended, Mr. Ickes said.

IS THIS REALITY?

The farmer loses sight of hungry world,
Looks for higher price each day,
Failing to see the growing corn
As food he plants today.

The workman measures day's account
By hours he works plus overtime
For double pay to mount,
Blind to work well done.

The politician counts the votes
He wins by this or that;
He sees that which his region needs
Not statesmanship nor diplomat.

The poet looks for markets yet
And sings of sunshine clear That soothes all listeners near.
He dares not sing of fear.

Oh! What confusion do we face!
What desolation near!
Responsibility is gone
And need alone is here.

—GRACE NOLL SMITH.

A POET-FARMER'S MID SUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

I am in love with Summer Night.
The fragrance of her sweet perfume
Has brought a dream of ripened love,
As silently she weaves the harvest loom.

I love to feel the sweet warm breath
Of Summer Night against my face.
Her kiss of quiet solitude
Makes every glade a holy place.

I listen to her symphonies
Down in the meadow, where for hours,
Her cricket concerts fill my soul
Among her setting of wild flowers.

Her love is as the love of woman
For she arises every morn,
And lifts the curtain from my dreams
To say, "Get up and tend the corn."

—EARL F. HUGHES.

COMP'NY TO TEA

By Grace E. Skinner
She spread the finest linen cloth
When comp'ny came to tea,
And used the china dishes
Treasured long from o'er the sea.

And Grandma made cream biscuits
And with rose home cured ham
We had watermelon pickles
And quince and gooseberry jam.

There was angel food and fruit cake
But far above the rest
Was Grandma's Irish moss blanc-mange
To me seemed much the best.

In mounds with molded flowers on top
Sometimes a sheaf of wheat
And smothered in thick yellow cream
It surely was a treat.

Now I've traveled many milestones
But I hope before I die
To taste some Irish moss blanc-mange
Like in the days gone by.

SPRING LENDS A HELPING HAND

Spring came dancing over the hill
In a gown of flaming red;
White clouds sprang up in back of her
And the sun shone over head;
The trees took on a greener cast
And the days began to grow;
The world now seemed to live again
And ready for summer's show.

SOIL CONSERVATION WITH PEANUTS

Texas peanut growers, accepting the Food for Victory challenge to triple the peanut acreage in 1942, should adopt conservation and wise land use practices in order to keep their lands prepared for any production emergency the course of war dictates. That's the recommendation of Paul H. Walser, state coordinator for the Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service and a member of the Texas USDA War Board.

This photograph, Walser said, illustrates a combination of conservation measures which any experienced farmer can establish on peanut-growing land. Crops are grown on the contour, and eight rows of peanuts

FOR A FALL GARDEN

From the grower's point of view, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, this year's garden program was a "life saver." Increased food prices caused many families to lean heavily upon the home supply of fresh vegetables. But this gardening year is not over "by any means," he adds.

The south half of the state usually grows its best gardens in the winter months.

For fall gardens, prepare the soil by (1) Removing all weeds before plowing (don't plow them under), (2) Applying summer manure, or barnlot fertilizer, broadcast over the area to be planted; (3) Plowing three to four inches deep, pulverizing the soil thoroughly, and (4) Applying three to four pounds of commercial fertilizer per hundred feet of row in addition to the manure. Inoculate, or treat, such seed as beans, peas, and cabbage before planting.

A simple method of eliminating cabbage blackleg disease (drying up of the roots) is to immerse the seed in water of 122 degrees F. for 25 minutes, Rosborough suggests. Hard-coated seed, such as spinach, should be soaked in warm water over night before planting. It is helpful also to press the soil around the seed by tamping with a hoe or walking on the row after the seed are covered.

As spinach will not tolerate the heat of late summer, don't plant until October or early November. The home gardener can well afford to use the Noble variety, which is more upright in growth and less likely to be drowned out.

Rosborough suggests these vegetables to mature before frost: Beans, stringless green pods; Mustard, New York or Los Angeles; Potatoes, Bliss triumph; English peas, Thomas Laxton; Radishes, scarlet globe. These semi-hardy vegetables will withstand light frost; Carrots, Danvers half long; Cabbage, Copenhagen, all-head, flat dutch; Turnips, shogoin, purple top; Broccoli, green sprouting; Beets, Detroit dark red; Swiss chard, Lucullus, kohlrabi.

WHY READ THIS?

In half a minute by the clock You could read these lines of mine— But can't you find a better way To spend your fleeting time?

Look out, and watch a cloud's quick gold, Or the moon-down over the hill; Or let two sonnets writ for all time With rest your tired heart fill.

Let but a few celestial bars That Brahms or Schubert heard Uplift your soul—or wait at your door For the evening song of a bird.

Your thirty seconds now are passed Over this halting rhyme. In a world so full of priceless things, How could you spare the time?

are alternated with four rows of grain sorghum that helps to keep the soil from washing and blowing. A three-year crop rotation may be worked out easily by planting the strip crop of grain sorghum (or sudan or cane) on different ground each year. Another good conservation measure is to grow winter cover crops—small grain (preferably Abruzzi rye) in low rainfall areas and Austrian winter peas, bur clover, or vetch where these legumes are adapted.

The War Board member said that lists of recommended, practical conservation measures that can be easily established in peanut fields may be obtained from County USDA War Board members or from the supervisors of Texas soil conservation districts.

THE SWEETER THE BETTER.

Plants that rely on bees for fertilization of their blossoms have a distinct advantage over their competitors if they can develop a rich and concentrated nectar. Bees, says George H. Vansell of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, usually select the richest nectars available. A few points difference in the concentration of the sugar in the nectar may prove important, he says, in determining the set of the fruit as between varieties in an orchard.

Vansell, a bee specialist at the field laboratory maintained by the Bureau of Entomology and plant Quarantine of the Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the University of California, found that in an experimental orchard 10 plum varieties growing side by side showed a range of from 10 to 28 percent in the sugar concentration of their nectar. The richer nectars attracted the bees; weaker nectars were slighted.

This effort of the bees to carry as much sugar and as little water as possible, helps account for sudden shifts in interest by the nectar hunters. Some flowers, particularly the tubular blossoms such as tobacco, seem to have an almost uniform richness of nectar but in the open type of bloom, such as the plum, it may vary widely. On a dewy morning the nectar may be so weak that the bees will pass by the pinks. But as the air warms and dries, the nectar thickens and in the afternoon the bees will come back to the plums.

Vansell suggests that if fruit breeders discover that nectar concentration is an inherited characteristic, it is a point worth considering in development of new varieties of fruit. Trees with rich nectar are more likely to have the aid of bees in setting a full crop.

I WILL BE TRUE

God, let me rise in the defense Of shrine and home and innocence, Of every goodly seed that grew Out of this soil in search of You!

I will be true! —This pledge I give To keep as long as I shall live; With heart and hand, in thought and deed, I'll be my country's friend in need.

Let come what may, my love will stand, The love I bear my own dear land; Before its flag, red, white and blue, I will be true, always—I will be true!

MR. HOOVER ON WAR

It has often been said that one of war's great dangers to democracy is not merely from without, but also from within democracy itself. To fight and win, many of the freedoms of peace must be relinquished. A paradox is quickly developed when war comes. To preserve liberty, restrict liberty, comments The Fort Worth Press.

One of the sanest comments on this we have ever read is in a New York speech by Herbert Hoover.

Emphasizing that suspension of certain liberties is vital to victory, he warns of the dangers, "because liberty rapidly atrophies from disuse." He would apply two tests to all such suspensions: "Is this departure necessary to win?" and, "how are we going to restore these freedoms after the war?"

To win, President Roosevelt must have dictatorial powers in the economic field, says the ex-President, who himself played such a large part in the last war. We must not hesitate to give those powers and to uphold the President in them, he declares.

But, he continues, while doing that we must strive to keep free speech alive, for criticism of the conduct of the war must be left open if we are to win, since democracy can correct mistakes only through public exposure of them.

"The President has unbelievable burdens in war. He deserves every support. We can not expect him to watch and direct the host of agencies and officials that we must have to make war. The Congress and the people must watch them. The enemy may get mental comfort by reading these exposures and criticisms. But he will not get comfort from the remedy."

As to the manner of criticism, no public servant, says Mr. Hoover, can be free of it if democracy is to live: "In a democracy even the President is not immune. I ought to know something of the theory and practice of that. But the first rule of criticism is that it should not take the form of personal detraction and abuse. Generally there are three tests of criticism of the conduct of the war. It should be decent, and should be directed to those things that hinder winning, or that undermine free men in America both now and after the war."

The former President calls intolerant that form of criticism which concludes that "all those who were opposed to war before Pearl Harbor can not possibly be patriotic Americans." They, he says, are now "willingly sacrificing their sons, their brothers, their husbands, and they are working and paying without murmur... To have unity we need the healing of our pre-war differences, not pouring of acid into the wounds."

As to the public and the war: "The American people have always been a debating society. They always have views. They always speculate about events. They are profoundly anxious over the fate of their loved ones and the welfare of their country. And all this can not be stamped out of them by a hobbled heel. It is not sedition... United is not to be confused with uniformity. When uniformity comes we will cease to be free men."

"After all, what counts is, are the people willing to fight and die for their country? Are they willing to suffer the greatest griefs that can come to people? Are they willing to work and work and work and pay and pay and pay until they are exhausted? The American people today are willing to do just that."

The calm common sense of Mr. Hoover's address will do much toward getting all of us into better focus as we view that which is ahead, concludes The Press.

WHY I PLANT A GARDEN

I love to plant a garden For reasons not a few, For riches from its treasures And wealth for me and you. It gives me health and pleasure In filling in my leisure; It pays me in full measure With the good that it will do.

I like to plant a garden When springtime comes again With life anew and vigor That stirs the hearts of men When winter days are going With soft warm winds ablowing, When grass begins to growing In every nook and glen.

I love to plant a garden Because of beauty given. It soothes our nerves so shattered When by hard tasks we're driven; It pays us well in wealth, It stops inroads by stealth Of things that wreck our health —And keeps us nearer heaven!

STORAGE FOR GARDEN PRODUCTS

Foresight in planning for the storage of Victory garden products this summer will be worth a lot of hindsight when garden surpluses commence to develop, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Potatoes, sweet potatoes, root vegetables, cabbage, celery, pumpkins, squash, apples, winter pears, and other products will keep well in cellars, in aboveground or underground storage structures, or in mounds, pits, or trenches.

Good ventilation and controlled temperature and moisture are important for some products. Store canned goods on shelves in a cool, dry place with good air circulation; if in glass, protection from light checks fading. Containers of dried food keep best in a warm, dry place such as an airy, warm attic or near the furnace. Brined vegetables keep well in the cellar in stone jars or kegs, completely covered with brine.

Families who check over their storage space early in the season can plan improvements and extensions. Where frozen storage is available, it is wise to keep lockers full.

CONDOLENCE TO A FRIEND

I cannot hold your hand When in sorrow you are bowed, I cannot give the comfort That your loving mother could. Nay the feeble words I speak Or the grief-filled heart I give Can never fill the place Left vacant by her death. But the hope within your soul Gently leading you along, Guiding swiftly, safely, homeward The way that all must go Can alone ease the bleeding heart That only you can feel, Can lead you sadly onward Until you live with her again.

—OPHELIA WILLIAMS LYNN.

WHICH IS THE WORLD?

This world can be so like a burning fire, A fire that burns on high through night and day, A power to destroy a man's desire And chase the hopes for future far away.

Success or failure ever rest upon The smoking embers of the burning flame, And through the blackest night till comes the dawn The fire, to life, forever shall hold claim.

And then, again... this world can be so like A long and winding river in the hills. The waters near to where I long to hike And find the peace of country nature's thrills.

But if this world is either fire or sea... This world is ever grand enough for me!

QUIHI NOTES

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph: For as much as God has showed you all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art. Thou shalt be over my house and according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled, only in the throne will I be greater than thou. Gen. 41:39,40.

Extra! Extra! Ex-convict appointed Prime Minister by His Majesty! Extra! Read all about it! And the papers would stand at every nook and corner and scan the juicy details of Joseph's background and past life, by this time scooped up by busy reporters, true to life or filled in by fantastic flights of imagination. The wires hot in every direction. The world aghast with amazement! Various royal courts deeply concerned or in consternation, whether to congratulate or console. Diplomats in secret conclave and sessions, with agitated spirits and muffled voices discussing the pro and con of a possible new policy in Egypt. Some would take it as a happy flare toward democratic principles, others, as a strong symptom of the king's mental weakness and approach to second childhood still others, as a suspicious upsurge of underworld elements. But few would sanction such breach of customs and conventionalities and good ethics. A foolish experiment entailing the waste of huge sums of money and the tax-payer to foot the bill! A capricious royal notion with no leg to stand on! A dummy-dupe show between an adventurous upstart and an aging king! At best, a ludicrous, swell situation for the keen-sighted cartoonist and the Sunday comics!

Leaving off a few items of modern methods of publication and the exploiting of such a radical step by a king, and you have a fair estimate of the reaction wrought in Egypt on that momentous day. A momentous day for the king, the future of a great country, and the much-abused man of God, who never grew tired in his watchful-waiting for the strides and manifestations of his Lord. "My soul waits upon the Lord." His motto.

Can you recall what has happened? The king had those ominous dreams. He felt, they are foreboding something of importance. His magicians failed him in the interpretation. Joseph was brought to his notice. Taken from the dungeon, he spoke with ease and grave assurance about the meaning of those dreams, attributing his skill of interpretation to his God. He indicated immediate fulfillment. Seven years of great plenty, followed by seven years of consuming famine. In addition, he had suggested a few elementary economic measures to prepare for the emergency.

What were they? Let the king find a man discreet and wise, capable and honest, surrounded by a staff of equally capable and dependable officers, busy with patriotic zeal and circumspection, and gather the fifth part of the harvest in the good years, storing the food and feed and seed in various sections to supply city and country with the necessities of life when the fields fail them, and all this "under the hand," the supervision of the king, unity and co-operation, adequate supplies with equal access to all, barring graft and speculation and partiality, and acting with speed and system; details to be worked out soon.

This brief outline "looked good in the eyes of Pharaoh," also "to his servants," high and low, professionals and yes-men. The most astute critic could not offer anything better. And another conviction grew upon that ruler, "Can we find such a one as this (man) is, in whom the Spirit of God is?" In the long roster of efficient officials, the king could not think of a man better suited for that responsible chief position than Joseph. It took more than brains and backbone and moral stamina to fill that place. He, if no one else, discovered "the Spirit of God" working, endowing and prompting this young man, and this God was different from the sacrosanct cows and crocodiles, the idols and fetishes and symbols served by popular worship and superstition in his land. He got a glimpse of the true God, and Joseph was his missionary. What a day!

The decision came fast and so came the solemn proclamation, the appointment of a new prime minister. Excepting my throne and personality, according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled! "Oyez! Oyez! Ye people! Ex-convict—Prime Minister! God omnipotent has many ways to out-manuever the plots and plans of palavering man.

A few rambling news items: The sick-list—alas, never closed—including for a while: Mrs. F. Fuos, Miss Emma Nietenhoefer, Mr. C. H. Fuos and John Henry Boehle. Mrs. H. Bohlen is very gratified with the result of her eye-operation, whereas Mr. F. Hartmann is still under medical treatment with his eye-injury, and Mrs. Alfred Schulte was returned to the hospital for renewed ministrations by doctors and nurses. Mr. Eldon Saathoff is in the army now—and rather far away. And Arnold Reitzer still farther, the latest news coming from Hawaii. Mrs. Aaron Coon has returned to Peaumont after a protracted visit with relatives and friends, getting home just in time to take in the heavy, blustering winds that invaded that city. No, it wasn't scheduled that way, but we take what comes under the Lord's guidance. He always knows what He is about.

The Luther League program again displayed fine features and had a fair number of recipients. The September program is canceled. But we announce the number for October: Select readings, Mrs. Andrew Eckhart, Harold Bohlen, Miss Jarline Baizen; vocal selections, Mr. Alfred Boehle, Mr. Roy Bohlen, Mr. Otto Lindburg; instrumental selection Mrs. Albert Reus. And a cordial invitation to you. ***

Announcement for September 30: Sunday school and Bible class at 10:00 A. M. English service at 11 A. M. "And I will give them a heart to know Me, that I am the Lord; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God; for they shall return unto Me with their whole heart." Jer. 24:7. How much we need that today. Come and be welcome!

USE V-MAIL WHEN WRITING THE BOYS OVERSEAS

The Post Office Department announced today that V-Mail Service, inaugurated on June 15, 1942, is each week showing large increase in the number of letters mailed by American soldiers overseas.

The War Department has increased its facilities to handle the volume expected in the future.

Facilities for photographing reproducing V-Mail to and from United States and the British, Australia, India, Hawaii and other points are now in operation. A lar service is being planned for land and other points where the volume may warrant.

Pointing out that V-Mail provides a safe means of communication, members of our Armed Forces Post Office Department gave the fact that the film (upon which communications are reproduced) given the most expeditious delivery available. Because of the small size, taken up by the rolls of film, often can be carried on ferry boats or bombers.

Every pound of weight which is saved on air transports over said the Department, means the equivalent amount of weight allotted vital military material.

In recognition of this, and effort to insure delivery of messages as many men as possible at one destination when space is in the War and Navy Departments directed that V-Mail be given priority in dispatch over all other mail, including air mail—when transportation facilities under control of departments are used for such mail.

V-Mail letter sheets have been distributed at all post offices and have been provided all military and personnel at overseas points the Army and Navy post offices and itary channels.

Private firms and individuals also been permitted by the Post Office Department to reproduce letter sheets. The sheets also be available soon to all stores and stationery.

V-Mail Service provides for use by patrons of a special sheet form which is a combination letter and envelope of uniform size and design. The patron writes message, completes the name address of the addressee and the return card in the space provided, seals, and mails the letter in the usual manner. Patrons warned that only the inner side of V-Mail letters are photographed, and should be careful to show the complete address of person to whom the message is in the panel provided therefor in the space for the message. It is capable to print the address in block letters. Enclosures must be placed in the letters.

V-Mail letters are photographed on micro-film by automatic means at the rate of 2,000 to 2,500 hour and the film rolls cost 1,500 letters each are transmitted destinations. Reproductions then made by other automatic means and delivered to the addressee in individual sealed window envelopes.

When V-Mail letters are added to places where micro-film is not in operation, the letters are transmitted to destination original form by the most expedient means available. Even in the stances savings in weight and are accomplished since there are approximately 97 V-Mail letters pound, whereas, ordinary mail average 40 per pound.

The War, Navy and Post Departments all cooperated in developing this Service, largely in view to decreasing the volume mail to be carried overseas and aiding an expeditious service.

The public is urged to use every opportunity.
